

PRAISES

- Tobias is healthy, happy, and growing at an alarming rate. ☺
- Nearly 40 new partners joined our team at the New Mexico and El Paso Wycliffe banquets!
- The Lord is giving us many exciting opportunities to share our vision with others.

PRAYER REQUESTS

- Jonathan's mom and grandpa are still battling their illnesses.
- We will be traveling quite a bit this summer. Pray for safety, good ministry times, and new partners.
- Pray that God will speak to people through us and that many will be challenged to do more for the Lord.

Chapel at Mission Viejo School

We were busy this April, as we traveled around the state with the Wycliffe Associates banquets in New Mexico and El Paso. We wish to express our gratitude to Mike Williams, the banquet coordinator, for allowing us this opportunity.

This month, however, I'd like to focus on a ministry event that took place the last week of April. We were invited to speak at the elementary school chapel at Mission Viejo Christian School in Santa Fe, NM.

I enjoy speaking in schools about Wycliffe. A big part of why I'm in Wycliffe today is because of missionary speakers who came through when I was growing up. Here is a brief outline of what happened:

News Flash!
We have just reached the 70% milestone with our financial commitments and have been cleared to begin working on our visas. Praise God with us!

- Candy game illustrating the need for Bible translation
- Powerpoint about Bibleless people groups and funny stories from real translators
- Interactive illustration on how it takes a team to translate
- Video of tribal celebration upon the completion of the New Testament in their language

The kids were interested and energetic. We had a good time, and I believe the Holy Spirit spoke to some of them about being involved in ministry.

Stephanie and I would be happy to come speak at your children's church, Sunday school, class, or chapel. We do not expect any donation in return and are glad to minister if you would like us to come.

Follow Us Online

Did you know you can help us get overseas just by using social media sites like myspace, facebook, and twitter? It doesn't cost you a penny, and all you have to do is suggest us to friends. You can even help by posting pictures, videos, or an encouraging word. While we will continue to have home meetings and visit churches, social networking sites like this allow people we've never met to discover us.

You can support the work of Bible translation by using sites like Facebook.

Here are several places you can find news, videos, pictures and more about our ministry online:

- http://www.teachmks.org/blog (our new website blog)
Facebook (search for 'Comptons in SE Asia')
MySpace (look up Jonathan Compton)
Twitter (look up jecompton)

We will be doing our best to keep the content as similar as possible between these sites, but privacy, technology, and organizational factors may limit what we publish.

Remember, every time you look us up, you are helping us out! And who knows? Maybe I'll make a fun ministry facebook app game.

Help us get to Indonesia! Your monthly financial partnership is the wind in our sails.
